THE PROJECT...

Provides support to individuals in programs non-traditional for their gender

Informs and dispels myths concerning non-traditional approaches to career and occupational choices

Helps students identify educational and career challenges and assist them in the search for solutions

Provides opportunities for younger students to become acquainted with non-traditional career choices

WHAT WE DO

Breaking Career Barriers

is designed to increase career options and open the door to a better, more fulfilling economic future for people of all genders. Eastern Maine Community College strives to achieve diversity in the workforce by first increasing gender diversity in the classroom. All prospective and current students are encouraged to explore occupational roles which are non-traditional for their gender.

8.9%

of skilled trade workers in the US are women

9%

of nurses are male

20%

of elementary and middle school teachers are male

Let us help you improve those statistics and thrive in your career field!
